

Crypto Risk Disclosure

iREVA Crowdfunding Platform

Effective Date: April 28, 2025

Investing in real estate using cryptocurrency involves significant risk. You should carefully consider the following:

1. Market Volatility

Cryptocurrency values are highly volatile. Values may fluctuate dramatically over short periods.

2. Regulatory Risks

Cryptocurrency regulations are evolving. Changes could affect your ability to invest, withdraw, or convert funds.

3. Security Risks

While we implement advanced security measures, blockchain transactions are irreversible, and crypto wallets can be targeted by cyber threats.

4. Loss of Private Keys

Loss of access to your private keys or wallet means permanent loss of your assets.

5. No FDIC or Government Protection

Cryptocurrency investments are not insured by any government agency or deposit protection scheme.

By participating in crypto transactions on iREVA, you acknowledge and accept these risks.